Subject: comments/questions on Real Alternatives Proposal

Questions:

1. Are State dollars that are allocated as "Service funds" allowed to be used to pay for staff. Would this require a budget amendment and call it what it is staff.
2. The same question applies to the proposal to use "service funds" for site development. Is this allowed with state dollars. Would it require a budget amendment and call it rent, etc.
3. The advertising proposal already suggests moving money from the services line to advertising.
4. Should we ask someone like Deb Hallenbeck about this use of funds

Comments:

1. I would imagine that they want to show that they are still expending the bulk of the funds through services, and would allow them to draw down the bulk of the money more quickly, but this would actually change the situation and would be spending the money for staffing, rent, phones etc. My concern would be to call it what it is, not make it look like services.

Importance: High

Hello Kristi,

Paulette and I had a conference call this morning to discuss our thoughts and comments about the Real Alternatives proposed amendment to the contract. Paulette is out of the office until the end of the week and wouldn't be available for a call until Friday. She suggested that you and I might want to talk about these issues. I am available for the rest of the afternoon today and tomorrow after noon. Also on Thursday except for 10:30 –noon. My phone number is 517-335-8696

Questions: First we had a couple to questions for you:

1. We were not sure if it is actually allowable to use funds allocated for client reimbursement to pay for staff, as an advance to be paid back in counseling services.
2. The same question would apply to allowable use of the funds allocated for client reimbursement to pay for rent, telephone, insurance, electricity, etc., as an advance to be paid back in counseling services.
3. Should these funds be moved out of the counseling reimbursement line and put into a line item for staff and for site start up?
4. We are assuming that it is allowable to represent the activities related to re-inviting new service providers, the training and provider approval process in the services budget, since that is where they were listed before. Does this address keeping the administrative costs at approximately 10% ?

Concerns:

1. We were concerned that if these advanced funds were allowed to remain in the counseling reimbursement line item, it would misrepresent the expenditures and appear that more funds had been spent for counseling services than actually have not been. Thus misrepresenting the amount of services for months to come.
2. At the very least if these expenditures all allowed to stay in the current line item, reporting should be transparent so that it is possible to see how the funds are being "paid back" in service visits. They should make adjustments to the reporting to show the outstanding advances and the reimbursement in counseling services, separate from the ongoing services currently being reimbursed.
3. Regarding the proposal on advertising, Paulette has real concerns about using bus advertising as the only type of outreach. She finds it unacceptable to use only one avenue for advertising. This is a particular concern since the bus system in the Detroit area has not been considered reliable for some time and ridership is not that high. We felt that it would be better not to put all the dollars into one type of advertising.
4. Possible suggestions for other methods of advertising/outreach: Since Michigan is such a "car state" we feel that Real Alternatives may again be relying on experience from Texas and Pennsylvania that may not prove as useful in Michigan. The MDCH media experts we use recommend exploring use of social media as a better way to reach this population. We would also suggest Real Alternatives might be wise to explore what methods of outreach their current providers have found useful to reach the clients in this and other programs and support or enhance those activities. The bus advertisement shown looks like a very good one, but we were wondering if it might not also be advantageous to have the name of the services providers also on the ad, these are well known and highly thought of providers in the communities and people would not recognize real alternatives alone as a community provider.

Comments:

1. We did not have concerns about the plan to reach out and invite, or re-invite, new providers to participate in the program and the additional training that would be required to bring new providers and sites onboard. We were not sure where these activities were reflected in the budget; we assumed they were reflected in the increases to the VP of operations, and Service provider approval and the corresponding personnel expenditures in the services budget. Perhaps they are also reflected in the increase to the President/CEO and VP-administrations and the corresponding personnel expenditures on the administration side.
2. We certainly do not want to block these ideas for expanding the program or getting it more widely advertised. We were, however, concerned that the advancement of funds for staffing and site expansion be reflected appropriately on the budget and reporting of reimbursements be clear and transparent.

Kristi:

My apologies for this taking so long. We wanted the latest data through November for our estimate. The bus companies took a while to get the breakouts we wanted. We also wanted to ensure we had a good sense of what was occurring in the field. I talked to the Executive Directors of Catholic Charities of Southeast Michigan, Kalamazoo and Women's Care Center in Niles to see what else Real Alternatives could do to accelerate ramp up of client services. Finally, the flu and a stomach bug hit Real Alternatives hard – I was out for a week (Christmas week).

Attached is our proposal to adjust the Michigan Pregnancy and Parenting Support Service Program. Based on our analysis and recommendations, we believe we need the contract extended through September 30, 2015 to ensure the entire FY 13 – 14 contract amount is expended ($700,000).

I will be available this Friday to discuss if you would like.

Happy New Year!

Subject: social media and Google buys

Hello Kevin,

Our media person did get back to me this afternoon. She reminded me that Social media and Google buys are two separate things:

The media office definitely posts information about programs on Facebook and Twitter. They oversee an MDCH account of each and forward content. And, of course, accounts are free. Certainly your accounts or accounts of the providers could do this for free. Great, how do we go about doing so immediately? Who should we contact?

Google buys are a type of advertising that your agency could use. MDCH contracts with a local media firm, Brogan and Partners, for advertising needs and when suitable they place Google buys as a way to increase search engine use on the web and drive people to a particular website. She did not have a contact for Google buys, since the firm does the leg-work for MDCH, figuring out what media outlet is best given the goals, budget and target population. Should we call Brogan and Partners or should we use the the MDCH media office for this?

~~Hope that information is helpful to you.~~

Hi Kristi:

Just following up:

1. We technically do not have an agreement right now. We assume the work we are doing will be reimbursable retroactively in this new contract amendment through September 30, 2015 – right?
2. The present service providers would be open to a two to three month advance of funds to hire new staff and new sites. Can we proceed with the advancement?
3. Quess provided information on purchasing social media and Google ads as well as assistance from the MDCH media office. Can we proceed with the proposed new advertising budget line?
4. Is the new budget in our proposal approved, or do we have to wait until the amendment is approved?

Thanks,

Please note the following suggestions:

1. The 10% cap applies to the FY 15 funds that will be carried into FY 16 with the amendment.
2. I think that you should suggest a week due date for the narrative budget changes for May and a two week due date for the additional $800,000 for the amendment. We can be flexible if needed but it would be helpful to have a target date.

The remainder of the message looks fine. Please let me know if you have any additional questions.

Please see this draft email for Kevin Bagatta and Mr. Lang at Real Alternatives requesting a budget narrative

Good Afternoon Mr. Bagatta,

Thank you for sending your budget revision proposal ahead of your May Expenses report FSR. My apologies for the delay in getting back to you. It took a while to find time in Paulette and Kristi's schedule to review your proposal.

We agreed we do not need a contract amendment to be able approve the expenses for May, because these budget shifts are within allowances for budget revisions. However we do need a budget narrative to describe how the funds will be spent in this shift from administrative to services line items. Please submit a budget narrative to go along with the proposed budget you sent, so I can approve the May expenses and accounting can make the payment.

Kristi also indicated that at this time we should do another contract amendment to include the $800,000 approved for fiscal year 2015. For this contract amendment we need a budget and budget narrative for Services and Administration, keeping in mind that for the FY 16 $800,000 allocation there is a 10% cap on administrative costs. Please submit a budget for the entire contract amount, adding the $800,000 FY 15 allocation to the remaining contract, and a separate budget for the $800,000 showing the administrative costs within the required cap. Also, please identify the number of clients expected to be served. Please also identify the planned strategies to increase services in order to be able to spend these funds in 2016.

We would like to set up a conference call to discuss this next contract amendment and are happy to discuss the current budget narrative if you wish. Please look for an email from Judy Stiles to set up a call. We look forward to talking with you again.

Subject: Budget Revision for May Invoice

Hi Kristi, Paulette, and Quess,

Attached is a budget revision we would like approved and applied to the May invoice we will be submitting soon.

Please Note:

1. We would move money from admin to services – thereby lowering the administrative cost ratio to 14.25%
2. Some of the budget line increases are due to the lengthening of the contract
3. The "contract close out" line would be moved into the "counseling" line upon execution of the follow-on contract or amendment of the present contract.

Tom Lang and I can discuss this further at your convenience.

Thanks,

Kevin

Subject: Re: Budget Revision for May Invoice

Hi Quess,

Here is the narrative you requested for the budget revision we submitted.

Thanks for the information on the renewal and the roll-over of the remainder of the funds not expended under the FY 13/14-FY14/15 contract. Our rough prediction is that the new contract starting this October 1,, 2015 will be around $1 million - $800,00 plus $200,000 remainder. With the 10% cap, that would be about $100,000 in administrative costs. Right now, we have one potential service provider in the approval process and three more scheduled for training.

With a $1 million dollar program, that would be very sufficient for a full state-wide program – we are pretty excited about that. We have had inquiries from the upper peninsular from potential service providers in the past.

We'll start working the details and do our best to meet the deadline – we started our end of the fiscal year audit today.

Thanks again!

Kevin

BUDGET REVISION NARRATIVE*ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES*Personnel

Increase to President & CEO, VP – Administration, Accountant, Payroll Taxes lines was due to increased cost of contract year year extension. More time was required to meet contract goals.

Increase in Employee Group Insurance line was due to increased cost of contract year year extension as well as increase premium cost.

Operating

Decrease in Consulting, Legal, Auditing, Travel-Lodging, Office Expense, and Computer Resource lines was due to less cost than projected.

Increase in Rent and telephone service line was due increased cost of contract year year extension. These costs increased because more time was required to meet contract goals.

SERVICES EXPENSES*Personnel

Increase to VP – Operations, Billing Coordinator, Payroll Taxes lines was due to increased cost of contract year extension. More time was required to meet contract goals.

Increase in Employee Group Insurance line was due to increased cost of contract year extension as well as increase premium cost.

Addition of Services Coordinator and Services Assistance lines was due to rearrangement of program tasks to different Real Alternatives staff.

Operating

Increase in Client Education Materials line was due to greater than expected costs.

Increase in Travel line is due to VP-Operations travel for site monitorings this summer.

Increase in Services database Consulting & Development line was due to increased cost of contract year extension. More time was required to meet contract goals.

Decrease in Hotline Referral System line was due to less cost than projected.

Decrease in Counseling Reimbursement would be necessary to cover the costs of contract close-out should contract not be renewed. With contract extension and renewal, contract closeout costs will not be required.

Subject: Budget Revision for May Invoice

Hi Kristi, Paulette, and Quess,

Attached is a budget revision we would like approved and applied to the May invoice we will be submitting soon.

Please Note:

1. We would move money from admin to services – thereby lowering the administrative cost ratio to 14.25%
2. Some of the budget line increases are due to the lengthening of the contract
3. The "contract close out" line would be moved into the "counseling" line upon execution of the follow-on contract or amendment of the present contract.

Tom Lang and I can discuss this further at your convenience.

Thanks,

Kevin

Importance: High

Good afternoon all!

I just wanted to drop you a line to let you know the dates and locations of my extensive Site Monitoring trip to Michigan at the end of August. Due to the fact that each of them are contingent upon one another in terms of my initial travel plans to Michigan, the time I will need at each location, my travel time to the next location, my hotel reservations that I already have, and my travel after they are completed, I will not be able to adjust this schedule at all. I am very hopeful that if you are interested in attending one of them that the dates and locations will work out for you! Thank you for your considerable understanding in this regard! It truly is much appreciated.
